TUESDAY EVENING, JANUARY 15.

A Duel in Georgia.

About 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon a duel was fought at the junction of the Atlantic and Georgia and Savannah and Charleston Rail roads, three miles from Savannah, between Walter S. Harley, a lawyer, and Robt. Fishburne, Clerk of the County Court of Walterboro', Colleton county, S. C. The parties arrived at Savannah on different trains Friday, and proceeded to the ground in carriages next morning. Harley's friend was C. H. Farmer, a young lawyer. Fishburne was accompanied by W. M. Rivers and his brother, F. C. Fishburne, a trial justice of Walterboro'. Only one surgeon, Dr. Dunbar, accompanied the party. He is a friend of Fishburne. They fought at ten paces with Colt's revolvers. Harley expressed his intention in a note to his wife to fire in the air, and did so. Fishburne's pistol being discharged at the same time. Harley fell mortally wounded. He was brought by his second to the town and taken to an infirmary. The ball entered the right side, severed the bowels, and lodged in the abdomen. Fishburne and his party returned home.

The parties are brothers in law, having married sisters. The difficulty originated about a difference in politics. Both parties are democrats. The offensive words used by Harley were, "You and W. F. Fishburne are mean and cheap copies of the Rhetts, without their brains or courage." A refusal to retract the insult resulted in Fishburne challenging Harley. The affair was kept very quiet, and the only intimation of the hostile meeting was made known in Walterboro' by a dispatch to Harley's brother announcing his fatal wound.

The challenge was the result of the offensive words used to Fishburne in the office by Harley on the evening of the 8th instant. On the morning of the 9th Mr. Fishburne addressed a note to Mr. Harley, referring to the objectionable language used to him, and requesting a retraction or withdrawal of the same. In reply Mr. Harley disclaimed any recollection of having used the language quoted, and added: "What I did mean to say was that you and W. F. Fishburne are weak and cheap copies of the Rhetts family, without their brains or courage, and must positively and emphatically decline to withdraw anything that I said on that occasion." This was followed by other correspondence, in which Mr. Fishburne expressed the desire to know when and where outside of the State the correspondence could be concluded. Mr. Harley's rejoinder was, he regretted he could not immediately name a time and place as requested, but would do so at the very earliest moment that circumstances would permit, adding: "If it would not seriously interfere with your plans, I would suggest that the matter be settled in Colleton, as we could apprehend no difficulty from such an arrangement if it is managed quietly."

This was followed by a challenge on the 11th from Mr. Fishburne, which concluded as follows: "I demand that you meet me at the junction of the Gulf and Savannah and Charleston Railroads, to-morrow, Saturday, the 12th inst. at 12:30 o'clock, to give me satisfaction for the insult offered. My friend, Mr. William M. Rivers, will stand by me, and will arrange for details." The challenge was accepted and the duel fought as stated.

SAVANNAH, GA. Jan. 14.—Harley, who was shot in a duel on Saturday, is still alive, but physicians say he cannot survive the night. His wife arrived last night.
